LOCAL ARTISANS TO EXHIBIT HANDMADE CREATIONS

Makers Mart will take place on the Town Green

McCandless, PA (August 16, 2021) – North Hills area artisans will unite to display and sell their handmade treasures on Saturday, August 28 at McCandless Crossing. The first-ever Makers Mart will feature local vendors with paintings, woodworking, jewelry, natural skin care, and more. The event will take place from 10 am to 3 pm.

Artist and illustrator Amy Solomon pioneered the event. She said she is looking forward to sharing her work with the community.

“The Makers Mart will be a wonderful platform for Pittsburgh’s local artisans,” Solomon said. “While many of us use online platforms as our storefronts, it will be even better for customers to see our handmade, one-of-a-kind items in person.”

In addition to artist Amy Solomon, look for Wren & Rita, a handmade soap creator, Mars Design Studio, a fine artistic woodworking business featuring charcuterie boards and butcher blocks, and other makers under the canopy tent on the Town Green.

Vendor fees for this event will support North Hills Community Outreach, a local nonprofit dedicated to supporting local families and individuals in crisis. A representative for the organization will be on site during the exhibition.
